Project description
The aim of this project is providing assistance to IDDEEA for the construction of SDH network. This system of telecommunication network ensures coordination between institutions responsible for provision of security measures using digital exchange of information by access to central database through integrated access points. The purpose of this project is to remove organizational and operative problems when it comes to the use of confidential information, as well as to make the exchange of that information more secure.
